What is Forex Trading?

Forex, which is a short form for Foreign Exchange, simply refers to the exchange of one currency for another. i.e., if you buy one currency using another, you are simply trading forex. Forex is the single largest financial market in the world with a daily liquidity of over $ 6.6 trillion, i.e., over 6,600,000,000 USD is traded every day! This is larger than the New York Stock Exchange market and Crypto market combined.

+234 0902 577 8189

Trading is done 24 hours a day, 5 days a week (i.e. Monday to Friday). Since trading follows the sun around the world, at any given time, somewhere in the world, a financial market is open.

What is traded on the Forex Market?

Unlike the conventional market that refers to where you buy and sell products, the forex market trades currencies. Total of 8 currencies, backed by countries with strong economies constitute the major currencies traded in the forex market. They are

- USD – United States Dollar
- AUD – Australian Dollar
- CAD – Canadian Dollar
- JPY – Japanese Yen
- NZD – New Zealand Dollar
- GBP – Great British Pound
- EUR – Euro
- CHF – Swiss Franc

Why forex trading?

1. High Liquidity: The forex market is highly liquid. That means that with just a click, you can instantaneously buy or sell at will. You are never stuck in a trade.
2. You can use leverage to trade: This is basically a loan from your broker to enable you trade a capital bigger than you have.
3. Information is available to everyone simultaneously: No one is at a disadvantage.

+234 0902 577 8189

4. Forex is a growing market with a potential to create wealth: With the 24 hour duration of the forex market, the market never sleeps. You can choose when you want to trade – morning, noon, or night. This flexibility makes it the ideal part-time, home-based business, because you can carry your office on your phone or laptop.
5. No one can corner/manipulate the market: The forex market is so huge and has so many participants that no single entity (not even the World Bank) can control the market price for any given period of time.
6. Forex is a recession-proof business: Most businesses experience hard times in a recession, but forex trading continues to thrive even more during a recession.

Who are the market players?

Four broad categories of people are involved in forex trading:

1. Governments, through their central banks.
2. Large commercial companies, e.g. major airlines, manufacturing outfits, etc.
3. Financial institutions such as banks are the largest players in the market.
4. Retail traders/speculators, which is the small guys. This refers to people that trade occasionally or just observe currency trends.

Until the late 1990s, only the first 3 categories could trade forex. However, the internet has made it possible for online retail traders / speculators to participate.
